

WRITING RETREAT LIFESPAN / LIFE COURSE– THE QUANTITATIVE VIEW

From 3 to 5 May 2017

You can't finish your article which drags on for months? The LIVES Doctoral Programme proposes a "writing retreat" to give you time to do so.

This workshop will be led by Prof. Matthias Kliegel who, given his expertise, will give you advice and / or feedback on your article.

The idea of this workshop is to propose a temporal space devoted specifically to this. So, come with your current article and during these 3 days, you will have the opportunity to advance or finish it. In order to carry out this project, all the analysis of your article have to be completed before this retreat in order to have only the written part to do.

The number of participants for this workshop being limited (10 participants), please register by sending an e-mail to Delphine Fagot before April 14, 2017.

The place where the workshop will be held is still to be defined.
